

Rachel Thomas

CONTENT CREATOR | PERFORMER

SOCIAL MEDIA JOURNEY

Rachel is a Hoosier born, middle child, current theater kid, and professional yapper. She began her social media journey like many others during 2020 when she downloaded Tik Tok “ just for fun”. Since her first viral video in February of 2020, she has been creating content that focuses on her lifestyle as a performing artist, comedian, and conversationalist.

On her various channels, Rachel shares her love for acting, choreography, dance, music, and movies, but also her life advice, hot takes, and rants about the Ren Faire. She originated “That Theater Kid”, the “Guess What I Just Auditioned For” series, and much more.

Rachel connects with her audience by genuinely being herself and not limiting her niche on social media to just one thing. She encourages people to stand out as artists by being unapologetic about who they are and what they love.

Rachel has over 500K on Tik Tok, 94K on Instagram, and 88K on YouTube. Her loyal fanbase consists mainly of women ages 18-35.
